

Partners in THINC Supports New Okuma Tech Centers

With the opening of its two new Tech Centers (Chicago and Houston), Okuma is bringing geographically specific solutions, resources, research, development and support closer to the customer.

With these state-of-the-art facilities, manufacturers can experience the power behind Partners in THINC and Okuma's Real Help Team. Partners in THINC members support these regional resources, as was recently demonstrated by their participation in the grand opening events at each location.

During these events, customers saw Okuma machine tools demonstrated in live-cutting applications and met face-to-face basis with Partners in THINC experts in addition to Okuma applications engineers, product specialists, and service specialists.

To learn more about the Okuma Tech Centers and to find the location most suited to your needs, visit www.okuma.com/tech-centers-and-training/ or contact your local Okuma distributor.

Okuma's Real Help Team and Partners in THINC are ready to help you take your manufacturing to the next level.
